

PROJECT SCOPE STATEMENT
Project Name	WorkFlow
Project Deliverables	Detailed Description
Login page	Returning users can log in using their username (email) and password
Signup page	New users can sign up by providing their email, creating a password, and completing the authentication process
Schedule page	Users can select a button (timeslot) as desired. When a user clicks the button (timeslot), it will trigger a POST request, and the corresponding function will be executed. All input, including the username and status, will be stored in the MongoDB database. Booked timeslots will be rendered and displayed on the Schedule Page and the Manage Page.
Manage page	Users can add or drop booked timeslots as desired. When adding a timeslot, users can see a list of employees and choose from the available options. To drop a shift, users can click the 'drop' button next to the booked timeslot. All inputs, including username and status, will be stored in the MongoDB database. Booked timeslots will be rendered and displayed on the Schedule Page and the Manage Page.
Project Exclusions
Trading of end-users is excluded from the project scope.
The project does not include the procurement or installation of new hardware.
Migration of historical data from previous system is not within the scope of the project.
Upgrades or modification to the organization's network infrastructure are not included.
Any legal reviews are excluded. The project assumes that the organization is compliant with relevant laws and regulations	