1	We were required detailed task analysis to create the Gantt chart	High	Not started
2	Since it was our first time creating the software from scratch, we needed to learn how to define dependencies and timelines as we worked on the software development project. We will use the scrum model architecture; some tasks should be repeated or changed. We know the project scope may change, so we are building flexibility into the Gantt chart. We are going to review our Gantt chart regularly so we can update the Gantt chart to reflect any modifications in the project scope.		Completed
